DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-5 and 8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10 of U.S. Patent No. 6,465,763. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of U.S. Patent' 763 includes the subject matter claimed by the applicant including a ceramic substrate having two opposing surfaces with a side face which has the surface roughness R_{max} from 0.1 to 200 μm , the ceramic substrate made of nitride or carbide ceramic being fitted into a supporting case and the thickness of the ceramic substrate being over 1.5 mm. Although the claims are not identical, the more specific patented claims anticipate the broader claims of the pending application. Once the applicant has received a patent for a species or a more specific embodiment, the applicant is not entitled to receive a patent for the generic or broader invention.

3. Claims 9-12 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10 of U.S. Patent No. 6,465,763 in view of Ushikoshi et al (US 5,306,895) or Nobori et al (US 5,616,024).

Art Unit: 3742

The US Patent '763 shows the structure claimed except the ceramic substrate being sintered with ceramic powders.

Ushikoshi et al and Nobori et al show a ceramic heater having a ceramic substrate made of ceramic powders along with sintering aids to produce a sintered ceramic substrate having a high thermal resistance as well as high corrosion resistance. Ushikoshi et al and Nobori et al also show that the ceramic heater has a temperature sensor to measure the heating temperature of the ceramic heater, and Nobori et al further shows the heating element comprises two or more circuits to provide the separate heating zones for a more uniform heating surface.

In view of Ushikoshi et al and Nobori et al, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adapt the US Patent '763 with the ceramic powders along with sintering aids to produce a sintered ceramic that can withstand a high temperature and further adapt with a temperature sensor and two or more heating circuits to provide a more uniform heating surface.
